

PENCIL, PIXEL, PAINT, PEN, PRINT, PASTEL... whatever it takes,

There isn't enough space for everything and I'm sure you don't want to read a Steven King length novel. Here's the reader's Digest Condensed version. My work is a reflection of life experiences and insatiable curiosity. Never being afraid to learn something new has been an important factor in the shaping of my professional journey and I am looking forward to where the next step may lead. The path has not been a straight line but I have acquired a very diverse skill set along the way. From fine art studies, sign painting, billboards and mural painting to Photoshop and digital design. Even had the opportunity to build a couple of art departments. Skilled in all the relevant design programs but most importantly an expert in the fine art of doodling. Would appreciate the opportunity to tell the whole story in person.
